1. Bachelor of Commerce, awarded in 1999 by McGill University, following a program in business administration, with concentration in marketing. Admission to the program requires high school graduation and two years of undergraduate study (diplome d'etudes collegiales or equivalent). The degree is the academic equivalent of a bachelor's degree in business administration (marketing) awarded by regionally accredited institutions in the United States.

2. This is an evaluation of educational credentials. Evaluation Service, Inc., does not assess accomplishments outside of formal academic training. Thus, we do not provide a judgment on professional experience. Only professional authorities in the field of specialization can determine the extent and level of professional expertise

3. SUMMARY: It is the judgment of Evaluation Service Inc., that Joe SAMPLE has the academic equivalent of a bachelor's degree in business administration (marketing) from a regionally accredited institution in the United States.
